

ADR Group Commercial Mediator Profile

THOMAS HAGGERTY

ADR Group Commercial Mediator

To appoint this mediator please email casemanagement@adrgroup.co.uk

Thomas has a "common sense" approach to mediation. With over 30 years of experience in business, Thomas is a natural communicator. He is quick to identify the key issues and to ensure that the parties see all sides of the argument. Whilst showing empathy, Thomas is clear and concise in his methodology, ensuring that a sense of "fairness" prevails when helping the parties to reach an equitable solution.

Thomas has mediated numerous settlements in the construction, property and general business sectors. He has also been involved in disputes concerning environmental issues.

Professional Background

Legally qualified, although not a practising lawyer, Thomas has worked in the construction and commercial business sectors for over 30 years. His work experience ranges from site based roles to directorships. He has experienced disputes at many different levels.

Thomas combined his legal studies with Environmental Science to degree level and has a keen understanding of environmental issues.

Organised and thorough, Thomas is a Member of the Association for Project Management.

Endorsements

"Thomas's ability to communicate at all levels puts people at ease"

"Thomas has the business experience to understand the different viewpoints fully and identify the key issues".

Personal Interests

Thomas is married with two children and lives in the Chilterns. He plays competitive squash, is a qualified Alpine Ski Leader and enjoys walking. He also enjoys music and historical novels.
